

Public Transit

Kansas City now has a single regional website dedicated to public transportation in the metro area

www.RideKC.com.

The logo for RideKC, featuring the word "Ride" in a dark blue sans-serif font and "KC" in a larger, bold, dark blue sans-serif font.

No more culling through multiple websites to find bus service in Kansas City. The RideKC website gives bus riders one location to find information about routes, schedules and fares for every corner of the Kansas City region, whether it's downtown Kansas City, Johnson County, Wyandotte County or Independence.

Johnson County Transit does provide service to Johnson County and other parts of the Kansas City Metro Area as part of the Ride KC service. For more information visit the Johnson County Transit website.

Westwood is also service by the Kansas City Area Transportation Authority of KCATA. For more information visit the KCATA website
